

BIBLIOGRAPHY

- 1 Day C. Taking Action with Indicators. London, HMSO, 1989.
- 2 Jenkins L, Bardsley M. How Did We Do? London, CASPE Research, 1988.
- 3 Harley M. The measurement of health services activity and standards. In: Holland W, ed. Applications in public health. Oxford Textbook of Public Health. Vol. 3: Oxford, Oxford University Press, 1991.
- 4 Harris N D. Service Operations Management. London, Cassell, 1989.
- 5 NHS Management Executive. Health Service Indicators Handbook, 1994 edition. Leeds, NHSME, 1994.
- 6 Hornby P, Forte P. Human Resource Indicators and Health Service Performance. Human Resources for Health Development Journal. Vol. 1, No. 2 (Sept.-Dec. 1997), 103-118.
- 7 Hornby P, Forte P, Ozcan S. Report on a Pilot Study in the Use of Human Resource Performance Indicators. Centre for Health Planning and Management, Keele University, December 1999 (unpublished document, available on request from Centre for Health Planning and Management, Keele University, Darwin Building, Keele, Staffordshire ST5 5BG, UK).
- 8 Mullen P M. Performance indicators - is anything new? Hospital and Health Services Review. Vol. 81, No. 4 (July 1985), 165-167.
- 9 Ozcan S. A study of the potential for performance indicators to improve management motivation. Centre for Health Planning and Management, Keele University, March 2000 (unpublished document, available on request from Centre for Health Planning and Management, Keele University, Darwin Building, Keele, Staffordshire ST5 5BG, UK).
- 10 World Health Organization. World Health Report 2000: Health Systems - Improving Performance. Geneva, WHO, 2000.