

PhD Course, University of Copenhagen

Qualitative and Quantitative Research Methods in Pharmacy Practice and Medicine Use

Course objectives:

The course objectives are to enrich and enhance participants' understanding of major principles and methods in research concerning medicine use and pharmacy practice.

Upon completion of the course, participants are required to demonstrate their ability to design, conduct, and evaluate research with special reference to medicine use and pharmacy practice.

Course directors:

Professor Ebba Holme Hansen (ehh@farma.ku.dk) and Associate Professor Janine M. Traulsen, Faculty of Pharmaceutical Sciences.

Duration:

19-23 October 2009.

Application deadline:

1 August 2009.

Course fee: DKK 14,000.

Course description and application forms:

www.farma.ku.dk/index.php/Qualitative-and-Quantitative-R/6428/0/?&MP=1111-936

