

RMNCH in the news around WHO/Canada “Delivering Results for Women and Children” forum

Margaret Chan, Emphasizes the Need To improve Health Care For Kids ...

French Tribune - Annabel Tautou – 22 November 2011

On her visit to Canada, Margaret Chan, the leader of World Health Organization highlighted the need to improve the health care services to women and children...

Solutions to child mortality not complicated or costly

Calgary Herald – 22 November 2011

Today more than 7500 children around the world will die due to poor diets and inadequate health care. Not only is this heartbreaking, it's immensely frustrating because these lives could be saved. ... This week, health leaders from across Canada and around the world have gathered in Ottawa to talk about action on child and maternal health. ...

Harper's maternal health pledge hinges on measuring progress

Globe and Mail – Gloria Galloway – 22 November 2011

Margaret Chan knows that things get done when progress is being measured... She sat down with The Globe and Mail to talk about the Canadian initiative and its potential benefits for women and children around the world. ...

WHO chief calls on countries to make women, children health top ...

Xinhua – 22 November 2011

Director General of the World Health Organization (WHO) Margaret Chan speaks at a ... Margaret Chan called Monday on the world community, especially the ...

WHO chief wants better public health care for women and children

Xinhua – 21 November 2011

21 (Xinhua) -- The leader of World Health Organization (WHO) Margaret Chan said in Canada on Monday that countries must make the health of women and children their highest priority. Speaking at a luncheon in Gatineau, Quebec, Chan said that maternal ...

Feds announce funds to help track child mortality in Africa

Toronto Sun – Kristy Kirkup – 21 November 2011

The Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA) will funnel a total of $8 million into a project at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Md., ...