Health a driver of economic growth. The health sector has grown faster than the world economy for the past 15 years.

4.0% vs. 2.8%

www.who.int
The price of health

In 2015 the world spent $7.3 trillion on health. That is 10% of Global GDP
Economic Growth =
Less reliance on external aid

- Low Income countries: 30% aid
- Lower-Middle Income countries: 3% aid
- Upper-Middle Income countries: < 1% aid

www.who.int