Communities make the difference

“I fight for better HIV and sexual and reproductive health services for women living with HIV.”

Baby Rivona Nasution, 52, cofounder of Indonesian Positive Women Network
Communities make the difference

“I help fellow women living with HIV access microloans and stay strong.”

Priscilla Ingbian Simon, 39, leader of COHSEI, a community organization in Nigeria
“I work to empower women in sex work, so that we can control HIV, rather than HIV controlling us.”

Phelister Abdalla, 33, sex work and HIV activist, Kenya
“I advocate to ensure that the voice of young people is reflected in HIV and health policies.”

Consolata Achieng Opiyo, 28, youth and HIV advocate, Kenya
Communities make the difference

“I advocate for meaningful engagement with key affected populations, including trans and gender diverse people, in HIV and health responses.”

Erika Castellanos, trans activist from Belize