Primary health care covers the majority of a person’s health needs... from birth to final days of life.

- promotion
- prevention
- treatment
- rehabilitation
- palliation

Primary health care is there for you throughout your whole life.