Trevor Peter PhD, MPH

Dr. Trevor Peter is the Senior Scientific Director, Diagnostics at the Clinton Health Access Initiative where he has worked since 2005. He is based in Botswana and is also the Chair of the African Society for Laboratory Medicine. Dr. Peter has over 20 years experience in the fields of diagnostics, infectious diseases research and public health. He has supported the scale-up of national HIV testing programs across over 30 countries in Africa, Asia, Eastern Europe, the Caribbean and South America. Previously, Dr. Peter headed the Botswana HIV Reference Laboratory under the Botswana-Harvard School of Public Health Partnership and was involved in infectious disease epidemiology research.