Title

Getting things moving: the key role of the rehabilitation workforce in the changing health landscape

Organiser

Handicap International

Objective

The session will provide insight into many of the common beliefs and misbeliefs about rehabilitation services and rehabilitation workforce and discuss ways in which human resources can be mobilized for supporting the needs of the estimated one billion people living with a disability across the globe.

Outcome

Participants will have gained an understanding of what constitutes a rehabilitation workforce; Participants will have considered the important role of including a rehabilitation workforce within a larger health workforce.